

RESOURCE GUIDE

Our educational efforts through America's Remedy take aim at the root of federal overreach by teaching on specific historical violations of our Constitution committed by the 39th congress via the Reconstruction Acts of 1867-68. We believe these Acts marked the elimination of true state rights and state citizenship. These Acts constituted a new war on the American people in their capacity as being states in the union. This is the basis of our assertion that these Acts were acts of treason, as constitutionally defined (Art. III, sec. 3), being perpetrated by Congress under color of law.

As you'll learn through the following resources, the Reconstruction Acts worked to implement a new political order in the American union, eliminating federalism in its genuine sense and creating in its place a new "indefinite supremacy" of federal power, as warned against in Federalist #39, which was cast over new, fully nationalized states peopled by a now-nationalized, homogenous citizenship. The end game of the Reconstruction Acts was to compel by any means the appearance of legitimacy with respect to the nationalization of citizenship through the congressional coercion of the Fourteenth Amendment. As opposed to a re-entering of the original states back into the union, Reconstruction effected the creation of entirely new states for a nationalized citizenry.

The remedy we espouse is a peaceful counter-revolutionary resistance movement to re-establish lawful states, their body politics and governments, in order to restore sovereignty to the states within that original union and put the federal government back inside its constitutionally-limited boundaries. To that end, our first goal is education and awareness.

We've composed this short guide so that you can begin your own studies at home, after the presentation or event is over. We've assembled here both printed and video resources, as well as a collection of online and offline resources we recommend.

Printed Materials

Available for learning and sharing America's Remedy with others, most of our printed materials are available in various formats, both printed and online. These resources are available at our table as well.

REMOVED (Booklet)

A short study on the decisions behind the Hewett v. City of King Lawsuit

On January 6, 2015, the small City of King, North Carolina, made the decision to remove all religious symbols from the veterans' memorial at their Central Park. Today, the Christian flag and kneeling soldier statue can no longer be found at the memorial.

Also available online as a free download, this educational America's Remedy short study booklet, REMOVED, seeks not only to answer the details behind what happened in the small city of King, North Carolina concerning the Hewett v. City of King lawsuit, but also WHY it can happen anywhere in America, and a remedy to reverse the trend.

Video Sets

Great to watch alone, with a group, or in a classroom setting, our video sets are an easy way to get started with your studies. These can also be a helpful resource for homeschool parents as well.

A Nation OVERTHROWN (2-Disc DVD Set)

Filmed live on location in Maggie Valley, NC, this fascinating seminar series will reveal shocking truths about the untold history of America, and provide a unique "Northern" perspective into the object of the civil war. The information presented in this 2-disc set challenges the beliefs long held by mainstream America on Abraham Lincoln and nationalized citizenship.

John Ainsworth gives a provocative glimpse into his personal battles in court as he challenges the constitutionality of the Reconstruction Acts, and of the de facto body politic which seeks to maintain its unlimited control over the American states. This seminar series is the only one of its kind that provides the innovative and bold solution to what ails America, while providing the necessary tools to begin asserting your rights instead of begging for them.

BONUS FEATURES include an interactive quiz, with downloadable teacher's key. Perfect for homeschool families, and students of all ages!

Total Run Time: 4 hrs, 48 mins

Counter-Revolution: An Alternative Political Choice (DVD)

A short study on the decisions behind the Hewett v. City of King Lawsuit

This 10-minute, animated video on DVD presents the root of America's problems, a viable remedy, and the result on the other side.

Each election our foundation continues to erode. Is there something more? Something we're missing as a people? Do we owe it to ourselves and our children to do more than check a box every four years? Is our Constitution important to us? What would the founders have done?

Counter-Revolution offers a fresh perspective on our problems, the history that got us here, and an exciting remedy that you may not have previously considered.

BONUS FEATURE: Includes our 53-minute Remedy Webcast special covering the Counter-Revolution in greater detail, including discussion on the nature of national U.S. citizenship and a glimpse into the process of re-establishing our lawful states.

Total Run Time: 10 mins + 53 mins (webcast)
